

THE WEDDING SCHOOL SALES AND MARKETING

2016

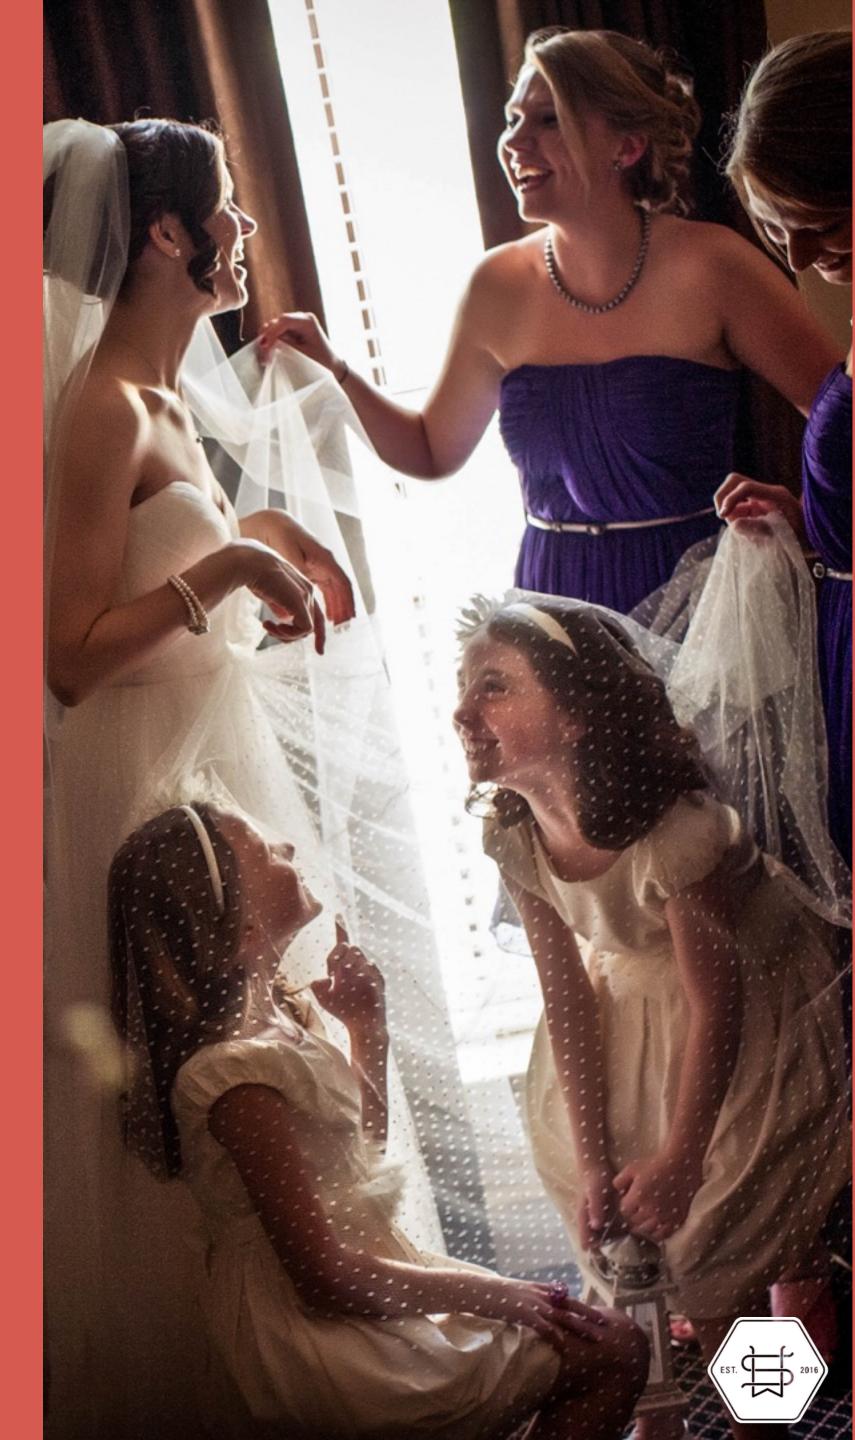

FINDING YOUR VOICE

- What will you share
- What won't you share
- Politics, religion, your kids, your spouse
- How will your voice further your brand
- Why I excel at social media
- Why I do not excel at social media
- Who are you sharing FOR?

PERSONAL FACEBOOK

- Friends, and only friends
- Hamilton, memes, cat videos, recipes, Hamilton, Broadway, Hamilton, and Lin-Manuel Miranda
- Never for business
- Never for clients, unless they become friends!
- Never for other vendors, unless they become friends!

BUSINESS FACEBOOK

- Image of the day, every day, no matter what
- Who is your audience?
- To run Facebook ads or not, that is the question
 - Become a trusted resource
 - Help, help, help, sell
 - Make sure that you interact with comments
 - Interaction drives post views

now?

professionals

...but it's fun

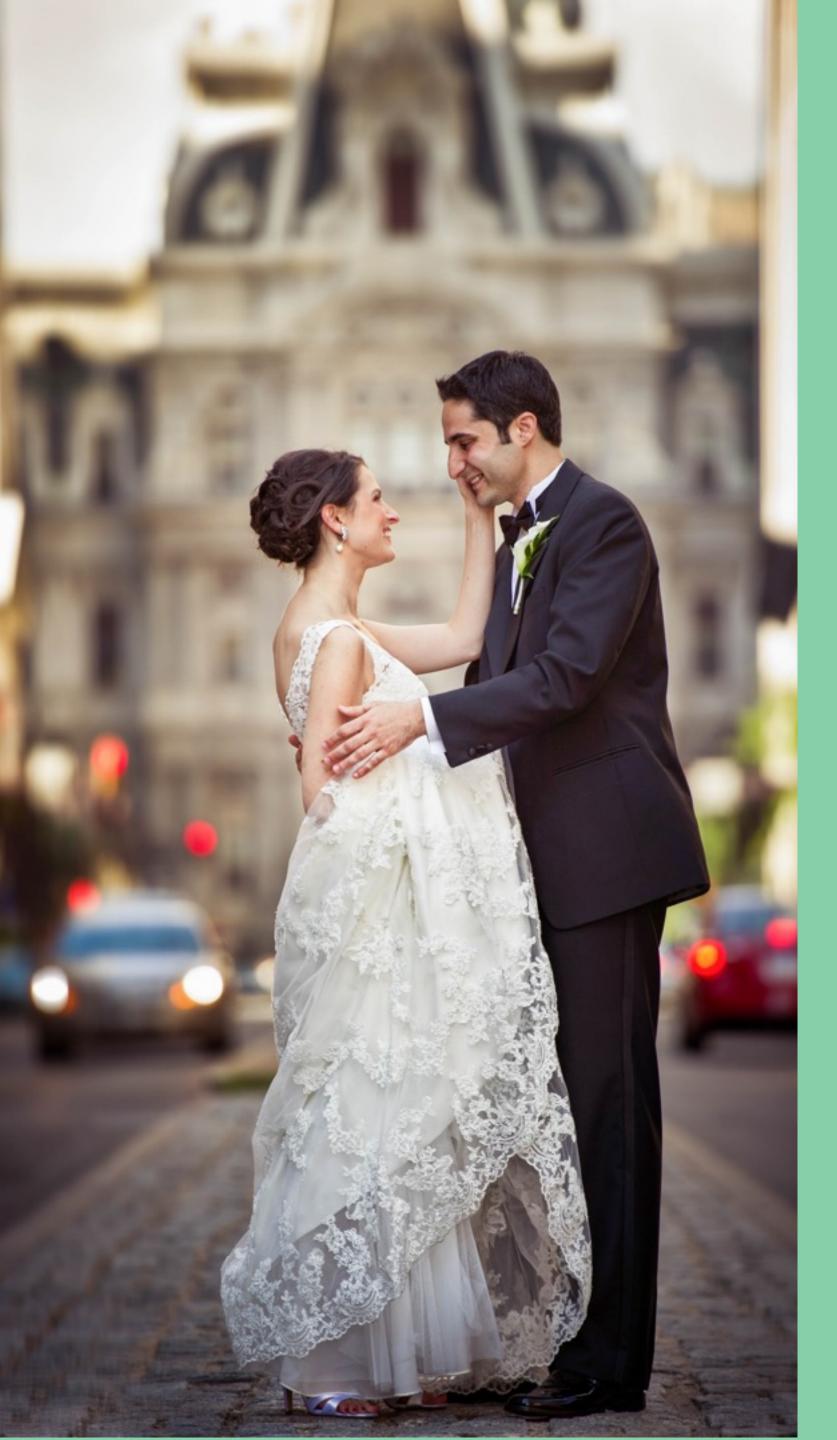

- Twitter can post to your Facebook page
- Social media research via Topsy...what are people saying about wedding photography right
- Twitter is not entirely relevant to wedding
- Ask questions that need quick answers

INSTAGRAM

- My personal current favorite
- Personal vs. business accounts
- Who are you marketing to?
- Prepare with vendor information beforehand via the wedding day worksheet
- Post quickly after the wedding
- Relevant hashtags
- Interact with comments

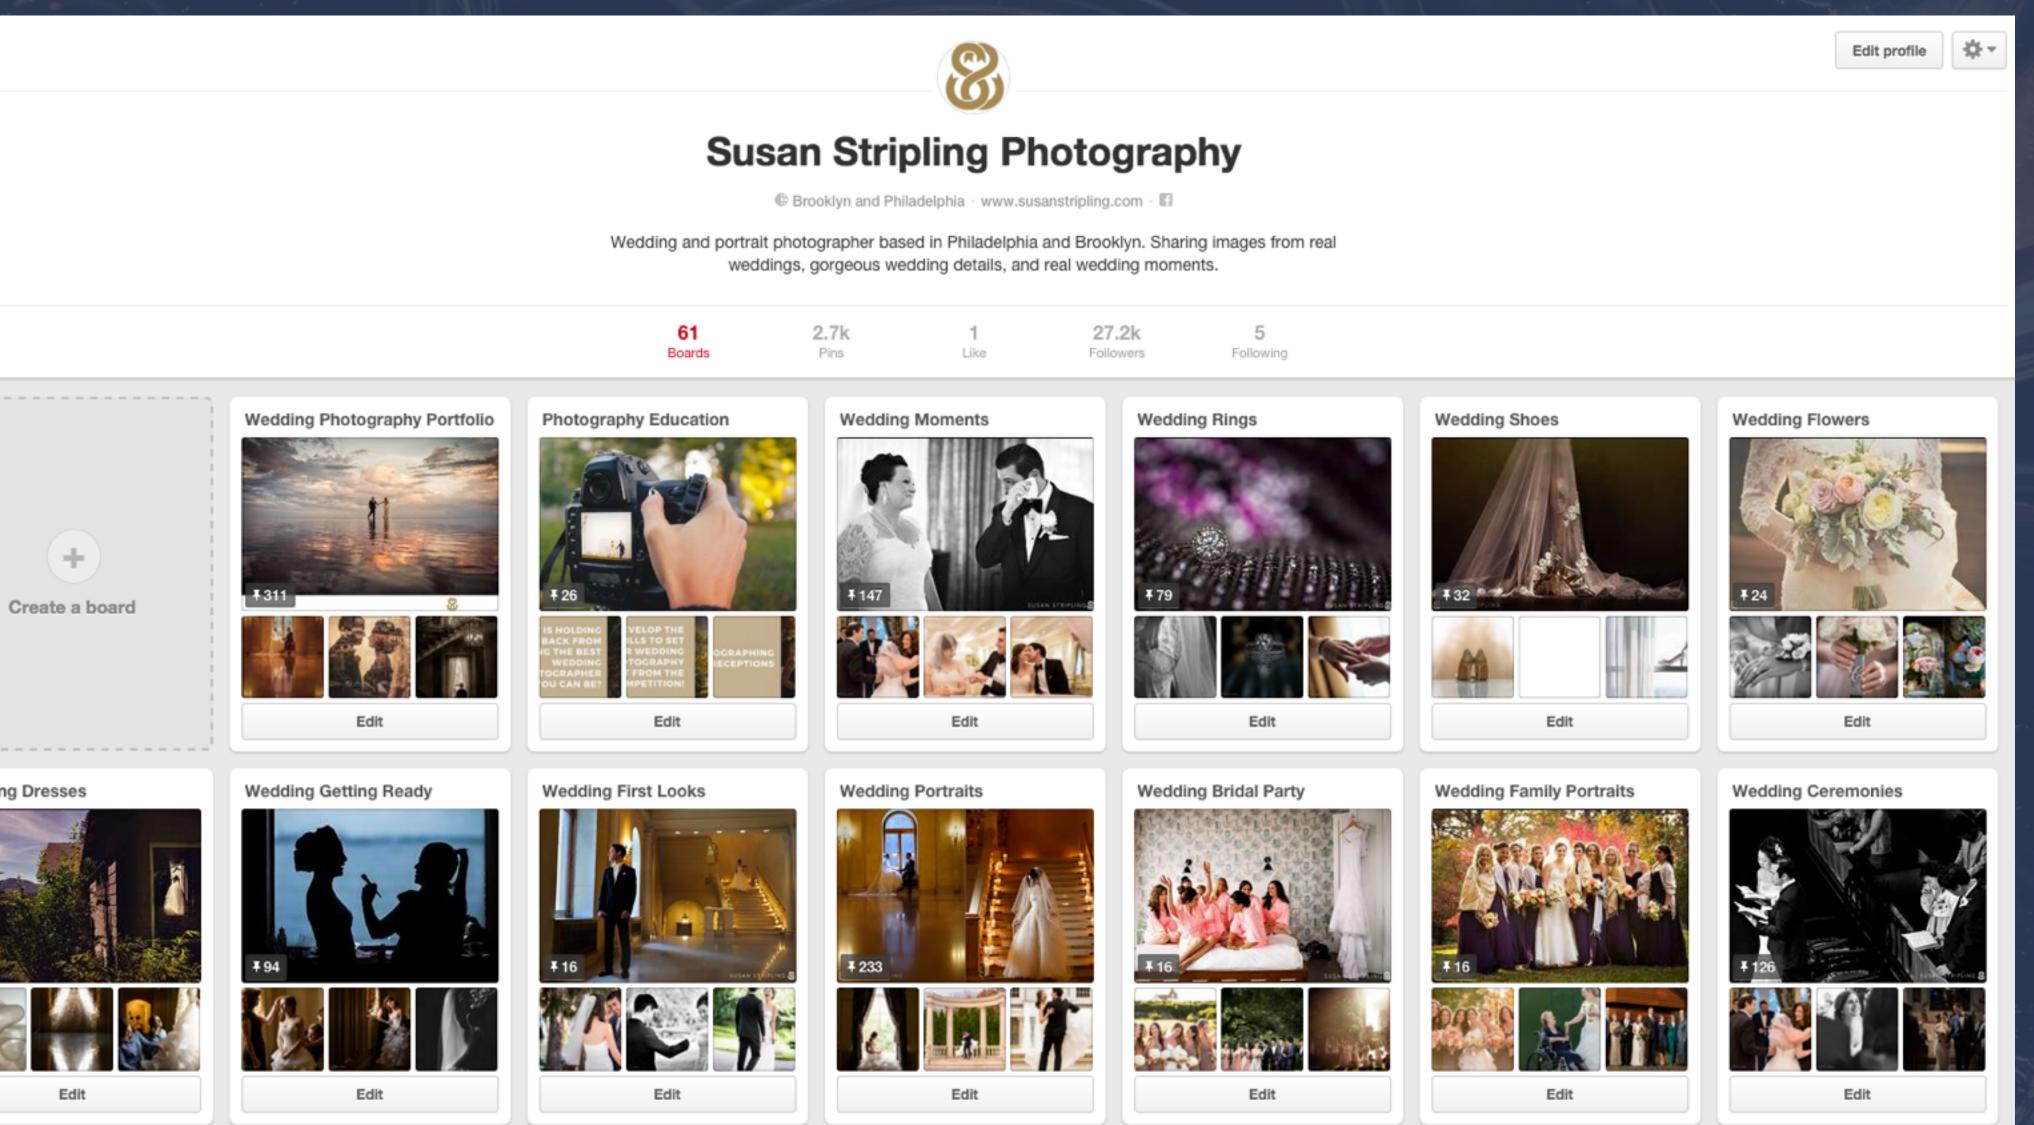

PINTEREST

- etc.
 - Venue-specific boards. "Weddings at This Hotel"
- Education boards are not just for photographers
- Group boards to collaborate with other venues and vendors
- Pinterest analytics for impressions and re-pins
- Pin everything on your site!
